AJCU-CITM Colleagues

Mark your calendars for April 30-May 3, 2006! The AJCU Conference on Information Technology Management (CITM) along with the AJCU Educational Technology (EdTech) group and the AJCU Conference of Library Deans/Directors will hold their joint annual meeting at Le Moyne College in Syracuse New York. The conference begins on Sunday, April 30th and ends with a noon lunch on Wednesday, May 3rd. In addition to the plenary sessions, the annual meeting will have track sessions in information technology management and educational technology, and a special session for CIO's.

The conference planning committee has arranged the overall program as well as the program for each of the three sections: educational technology (Bill Thieke, Le Moyne), information technology management (Mark Castner, Canisius) and library (Joel Cohen, Canisius). There will be three plenary sessions:

- * Disaster Planning and Recovery ✓ LOYOLA N.O.
- * Scholarly Information Systems
- * Leadership and Succession

Mary Lee Sweat (Library) and Bret Jacobs (CIO) of Loyola New Orleans have graciously agreed to lead the Disaster Planning and Recovery session. The planning committee is working to secure speakers for the other sessions.

The power of an AJCU conference is that it is designed for you and the presenters are your colleagues. This e-mail is a call for suggestions for other topics and sessions for the conference. If you have a session idea, want to lead a session or panel, or just want information on a particular topic this is your opportunity to participate in conference planning. This is your conference!

To this end we've set up a conference web-site at <http://www.lemoyne.edu/ajcu>. On the conference site check out the link to the "Call for Proposals", an easy way to submit proposals or simply topics you'd like addressed. Please submit your information by February 24th so the committee can use it in their planning.

The conference site also provides information about the conference, hotel arrangements, and Le Moyne College. Online conference registration will be available soon.

We look forward to seeing you at Le Moyne on April 30th.

Best regards,

Bob Clapp, Conference President
